WEDNESDAY, JULY 17, 1907.

State Senator Thomas, of the Lynchburg district, undertook to secure the election to the State Senate by pledging to use his best efforts to make of Senator Daniel an Ex-U. S. Senator, and he lost out in the game. Hon. Don P. Halsey defeated him by a decided majority. It is remarkable that Mr. Thomas should have made this fight upon Major Daniel, and especially that he should have based it on the failure of Senator Daniel as a public man. Who stands higher to-day in the esteem of the Democrats of the Nation than does Senator Daniel with the one exception of Wm. Jennings Bryan? Who has a cleaner record in Washington? Who has stirred the Senate with more convincing logic and charming rhetoric? And, marvelous to say, while engaged in this public service he has found time in which to give to the profession of his choice and of his lore, one of the most valuable law books of the country, and upon one of the most intricate and important branches of that profession? No, there is no such word as failure in the career of Virginia's Senior Senator, and Mr. Thomas made a great blunder in so charging. There are some questions upon which you can not fool the people even one time.

Governor Swanson's term hurries to a close and what will he do when the end comes? He will be too young to retire and Saunders will be hard to beat. Practicing law in the quiet country places will be dull business to him with Congress in session. Couldn't we somehow utilize our Ex-Governors in the service of the State? Cameron, Tyler, Montague and Swanson would make a splendid commission for some good purpose. How about a public utilities commission? They all go into office issuing ringing charges on the subject of good roads and at the end of their respective terms leave the public highways as they found them. It might be that devoting their lives to the all-important subject something of practical value would be accomplished. And if so their last days would be their best days.

Judge Pritchard of the U. S. Dist. Court, has decided in favor of the railroads in the 2-cent rate controversy. His decree first declares that our Corporation Commission is not a court and therefore could be enjoined and the injunction was perpetuated. The case will go to the Supreme court before the controversy will end. In the meantime the people who travel will pay 3 cents as of yore. In this connection we are reminded that the N. & W. authorities assert that the reduction of a cent a mile would mean to them a loss annually of $335,000. We believe, however, that the reduction of rates would so increase travel as to make a gain in receipts rather than a loss.

Why is it that Richmond is too big to be temperate, or for prohibition to be enforced there? Are the people lawless in proportion to their numbers? If so then it was a mistake to move the Union Theological Seminery there in order to train young men to not only be good but to train others to be good. If the city folks wont do right of their own accord the country people will have to take them in hand and convince them that it is easy and very much better to live without the saloon.

They caught John D., put him on the witness stand and he knew no more of the Standard Oil assets or affairs than a cat. Says he has been out of a job for ten years and just don't "know nothing and don't know that." Slick old duck that.

The Times-Dispatch is strictly right in saying that the men who begin life drunk generally fill drunkard's graves. Murphy was an exception. The Bible tells us of but one death bed repentance.

Ambassador Reid had his friends to dine with him in London, on the 4th, and the entertainment cost him more than a year's salary Horace Greely would have turned in his grave if he knew it.

Senator Tillman isn't in the duelling business, but isn't second and goes on saying just what he thinks, and among other things that the white man is the negroe's superior.

Most men love to boast of their success in life, but John D. is a constant dodger of it. May be he is just modest and would rather that others should blow his horn.

Hold on to the coupons, the conductors on our railways are giving out. If they are never converted into currency they will yet be recognized as curiosities.

Buford.

On the glorious Four h Miss Ella Robertson, of Buford, celebrated the occasion to the fullest by giving a regular old Virginia breakdown. First on the bill of fare was a fishing party in the afternoon, which all pronounced an ideal time. Then dancing was indulged in until the mid-night hour when a large supply of fire-works were put off much to the pleasure of the entire crowd. A large and delicious supper was served after the fire display, then dancing was again the "order of the day," until the good old hour of seven when good bye time came with souvenirs of fans tied with red, white and blue ribbon were given away to the jolly crowd. Those present were: Misses Eva Powers, Lila and Hattie Mathews, of Warminster; Maud and Pearl Turner, of Norwood; Ruth Turner, of Lynchburg; Susie Staples and M. Louise Omohundro, of Omohundro; Mary Cunningham, of Buford. Messrs. E. W. Carder, of Warminster; Carle Cobbs, Sam and Emmett Pouton, of Howardsville; Julian Robertson and Andrew Dameron, of Richmond. C. H. Omohundro, of Buford; Charlie Fredrick, of Schuyler; Mr. Heapler, of Hunter's Lodge; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Duncan, of Mantee; Mrs. Cary Robertson, of Richmond.

Mrs. G. A. Hudson and little daughter, Rosa, of Scottsville, are the guests of Mrs. E. L. Omohundro, of Omohundro, this week.

Mr. P. C. Omohundro said his home a flying visit last week.

Miss M. Louise Omohundro and her friend, Miss Mary Wright, of Lynchburg, are visiting friends and relatives in Farmville and Hampden Sidney.

Mr. H. D. Omohundro was in Lynchburg last week on business.

Miss Pauline Morriss returned to her home, "Oak Lawn," last week after a visit to Farmville, Lynchburg and Jamestown.

Mrs. Jane Davis continues very ill at her home.

Master Owen Taylor, of Lynchburg, is visiting his aunt, Mrs. E. L. Omohundro.

Female Weakness

"Last Fall," writes Mrs. S. G. Bailey, of Tunnelton, W. Va., "I was going down by inches, from female disease, with great pain. After taking Cardui, Oh! My! How I was benefited! I am not well yet, but am so much better that I will keep on taking Wine of Cardui till I am perfectly cured."

Despite the envious attacks of jealous enemies and rivals, Cardui still holds supreme position today [as in the past 70 years] for the relief and cure of female diseases. It stops pain, tones up the organs, regulates the functions, and aids in the replacement of a misplaced organ.

Death of L. A. Bagby

The cruel monster death had again crossed our threshold and claimed as his victim our worthy and venerable friend, Mr. Luke A. Bagby, who died of old age and a complication of diseases at the home of his brother, Charles Bagby, near Hollywood church in Appomattox county, on Tuesday night, the 16th inst., after a long and painful illness. The deceased was born in Buckingham county in 1823, and was 84 years of age at the date of his death. He professed faith in his Redeemer in early life and united with the Baptist church, and when in health was a constant attendant of his church and lived as he died, a true and faithful servant, an gentleman, faithful in all of his duties both religious and secular. He lived until a short while ago on the old Richmond road near Rose Bower, and while he never married his home was always open to all and where his hospitality was lavishly dispensed to every one who called, whether friend or stranger they met with a regular old Virginia welcome of the oldest style. He was one of Appomattox's best citizens, and while he was the friend of all, he was truly beloved by all regardless of creed or color. He was a member of Appomattox Camp of Confederate Veterans in good standing and by whom he will be greatly missed. During the war of '61 and '65 he was a member of Co. H. 2nd Virginia Cavalry, rendering faithful service to the closing scene at Appomattox, where he surrendered on April 9th, 1865, after which he turned his swords into plowshares and commenced again to till the earth, which occupation he followed until old age and disease disabled him when he went to live with his brothers and sisters. He was a true friend, good neighbor and a loyal citizen. One by one the leaves are falling and soon the last of the Confederate soldiers will have crossed over the river to join their old comrade together with the hosts who have already preceded them.

The deceased leaves two brothers, Charles and J. H. Bagby, of Appomattox and two sisters Mrs. Fannie Turnes, of Appomattox and Mrs. Branch Viar, of Kentucky.

The funeral services will take place at the home of Charles Bagby at 2 o'clock p. m. on the 18th inst

Concord

Mesdames Jett and Ould and numerous young ladies and gentlemen for assistants with their supervising talent have prepared the most unique tragi-comical drama of the season here, known as "The Little Brown Jug," to be played in "Staples' Hall" on Thursday, July 18th These talented ladies have exercised great caution as well as cultivated great art in making ready for this acceptable occasion. They have been rehearsing for many months in order that all the tact and skill of the actors may be represented in superb style. The play will consume about two hours, and no moments will pass that are minus enjoyment, and no act that is not fully interesting. A very large attendance is expected and speedy arrangements are being made accordingly. In separate apartments ice-cream and such like refreshments will be readily prepared and served after the performance. It has been quite a time since Concord was pleased with the honor of admitting such a temperance play of this nature and achievement and it is hoped that those who scan these lines will adorn the occasion with their presence and receive the managers closest attention and the town most hearty welcome. The proceeds of this will go towards remodeling and building side-walks throughout the town.

This is certainly a handsome property, fronting, as it does, along the main street of a thriving little town on R. R., with the best school, church, telephone and telegraph advantages; the land is level and smoothly watered, orchard and every necessary outhouse, and is underlaid with a fine vein of coal, which is actually under cultivation. There are three residences on the place, two of them are comfortable tenant houses, with chimneys at each end, containing four rooms each. The main residence is one of the best in this section of Virginia, containing 10 rooms, of good material and commodious proportions, and is beautifully located, and its surroundings are simply lovely. The scenery and surroundings will please the lovers of nature. It is the cheapest property of size and kind in the state. $10,000 would be a fair price.

Three Disasters:

Common with Credit Houses. One said: "I will pay you Saturday night if I live." HE'S DEAD. Another said: "See you tomorrow." HE'S BLIND. Still another: "I hope to pay this week or go to H——," HE'S GONE.

Moral:

Spend your cash with a cash house (Thats us) where you don't have to pay for these misfortunes.

NATURE'S
GREAT BLOOD TONIC
Piedmont-Bedford Concentrated Iron & Alum Water
(Representing the Famous Bedford Alum & Iron Springs of Va.)
contains 17 of the most powerful Mineral Tonics.
An 18-oz. bottle contains all the minerals in a barrel of the average water. We furnish the minerals, you furnish the water.
We have certificates both from the public and from eminent physicians, telling of its wonderful curative properties in the following cases: Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, a large variety of Female Diseases, Chronic Diarrhoea and Dysentery, General Debility, Anaemia, Malaria, Disorders of the Throat, Diabetes, Piles, Chronic Eczema, Nervousness, Chronic Constipation, and many showing the wonderful cures in that dreadful disease, Scrofula.
DR. T. L. KABLER, for fifteen years a resident at the Springs, says: For Scrofula, that fearful destroyer of human health and happiness, we have in this water a remedy which neither science nor fortune accident has hitherto found an equal. It is in this malady, and some forms of secondary and tertiary Syphilis, that this water when carried to its full alterative effect, displays its highest curative powers. In all forms of diseases peculiar to females, this water will be found to exert a curative influence second to none in Virginia.
I have given your Concentrated Water a fair trial, and say with pleasure I have been greatly benefited. For some years I have suffered more or less with Indigestion, followed by Constipation and other attendant ills. Within the past two months I have found such relief from your remedy that I have improved in strength and weight; have eaten what I have wished to, and have not been troubled a day for a long time, and have been able to do before for years.
Rev. OSCAR LITTLETON,
Presiding Elder, Lynchburg, Va.
Since 1894 I have been afflicted with Chronic Diarrhoea. About six months ago I commenced using your Concentrated Iron and Alum Water with the most wonderful and satisfactory results. For three or four years past I have been deprived of the privilege of visiting friends or going to church, as my trouble kept me in constant suppression, having lost almost entirely the control of my bowels; but now I am happy to state that after taking about a half dozen bottles of your remedy I am entirely cured, and having used nay for the last four months. I can confidently and most gladly recommend your remedy for Chronic Diarrhoea.
Rev. RUFUS AMIS, Virginia, Va.
I was an intense sufferer for some months with Indigestion, and could get no relief from the ordinary remedies. During the month of January I began the use of your Concentrated Water, and one bottle has entirely relieved me. I can now digest any diet and am entirely free from suffering. I take great pleasure in giving this testimonial.
REV. H. M. BLAIR,
Editor N. C. Christian Advocate,
Greensboro, N. C.
I have used and prescribed waters from several Iron and Alum Springs, but none of them begin to come up to your Concentrated Water in all that goes to make the ideal alterative, strengthener, appetizer and restorative. It is at once a fine tonic and flesh-builder. Have advised several recently to try it, and always with fine and quick results. In January I had a bottle sent from one of your dealers to a lady, with the understanding that if it did not at once improve her digestive apparatus, I would pay the $1.00 myself. She not only willingly paid the bill, but sent a good part of one-half dozen more bottles, and is now completely cured of a long and annoying Stomach Trouble. This seems to be the case with all who try it.
